

2019 The 4th INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON CANCER PRECISION MEDICINE

August 16th-18th Chongqing, China

FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT &
CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

WELCOME MESSAGE

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

On behalf of the Organizing Committee, we are pleased to invite you to participate in the Fourth International Conference on Cancer Precision Medicine to be held August 16th – 18th, 2019 in Chongqing, China. We have planned a tremendous conference in which many domestically and internationally renowned experts and scientists will participate and discuss the state of precision medicine in Cancer.

With the rapid progress of knowledge in life science and technology, Precision Medicine has become the forefront of cancer research. This new type of medical philosophy and model for taking care of cancer patients is developing very rapidly and promises to change the way cancer care is provided and, more importantly, how it can change the outcomes for patients diagnosed with cancer. The goal of this conference is to assemble different stakeholders of Cancer Precision Medicine and engage in a conversation about the status of cancer care, including targeted therapies and immunotherapies and to promote Precision Medicine in China and in the world. The Organizing Committee is honored to attract world-class experts dedicated to improving Cancer Precision Medicine. We will have physicians, scientists, business people, investor groups and regulators to have discussion on the medical, regulatory and business aspects of Cancer Precision Medicine at this conference.

We hope that all the participants at this conference could obtain significant new insights into modern cancer care by sharing and exchanging ideas with colleagues worldwide.

We are looking forward to seeing you in Chongqing in 2019!

Chair of the Conference
Director of National Clinical Research
Center for Cancer

Co-Chair of the Conference
Paul C. Cabot Professor
Department of Genetics
Harvard Medical School
